The turnout was impressive at HHSS last week for Career Week. Students were exposed to a wide variety of career information, ranging from post-secondary course information, to job descriptions, to the role of computers in the work world of the future. These students are listening to former HHSS students tell their experiences at post-secondary institutions.

NEED jobs possible for winter months ahead

The federal/provincial NEED program has been designed to create winter jobs -- but will it have much effect here in Haliburton?

Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins said Monday that he hoped "the plan does not just benefit large communities, like Windsor and Sudbury -- but usually those who yell the loudest get the bulk of the funding."

The program is being jointly funded in Ontario by Queen's Park in Ottawa. The federal government has earmarked $130 million for NEED, while the province has tentatively agreed to chip in $100 million.

According to Ron Bull, a public affairs officer for Employment and Immigration Canada, the NEED jobs are intended "for unemployed workers who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits or who are receiving social assistance."

Workers must also have been off UIC for at least ten weeks in order to qualify for the jobs, which will range from 12 weeks to one year.

Ottawa says it will subsidize both the workers and "unions, municipalities, and non-profit groups" to cover capital costs.

According to Bull, the types of jobs that the federal government would like to see include community airport work, bridge and street repairs, and sewer and water system maintenance.

But the types of jobs available are entirely up to prospective employers.

"It will be up to the communities to sponsor these projects -- not individuals," he explained. "If a sponsoring group has a project in mind they should get an application (from Canada Employment Centres), set out the type of project and its estimated costs, and then submit it," added Bull.

Proposals will "go through a couple of review stages...and within three weeks of submission, will be before the minister for final approval," he said.

Jobs at home?

At this point, said Bull, no one can say where most of the jobs will be created. It's all up to communities and groups, he said.

In Haliburton County at least one group has shown an interest in the plan. Elgin Stouffer of the private foresters' association said last Wednesday that his group is studying the feasibility of getting NEED employees for forest management. The workers would be directed by experienced staff, he told county council.

John Eakins said there are many workers in Victoria and Haliburton counties who need assistance.

He noted that "more than fifty" workers out of work in Cobocook as a result of the closing down of Vic-Ply there. "All of their UIC benefits are exhausted by now," he pointed out. "The small communities must not be victimized...their problems are just as serious" as those in the cities, he said.

He said he was optimistic that local groups and communities would come up with ideas for NEED jobs.

Provincial contribution

"The province should be contributing pretty well an equal amount," said Eakins. "Our government (Ontario) has a responsibility...they've spent money in other fields."

He pointed to the $40.8 million spent at Minaki Lodge, north of Kenora. Money is being spent to subsidize a lodge that "caters to the upper crust," he said.

"It's a matter of priorities," he stressed.

The older readers of the Echo may recall the building of highways in the area back in the "dirty thirties." At that time the unemployed were offered three square meals, ten cents an hour, and a tarpaper shack to sleep in. Most took the chance.

Unemployed could work in forest management

Elgin Stouffer feels the new federal/provincial job creation program could fit in nicely with the need for more forest management in Haliburton County.

Stouffer, the deputy-reeve of Stanhope township, was speaking at last Wednesday's meeting of Haliburton County council in Minden.

The province has tentatively agreed to put up $100 million (the federal government has earmarked $130 million) for the creation of jobs in Ontario.

The new program, called NEED (New Employment Expansion and Development) attracted the attention of Haliburton County's private foresters' association at their last meeting, he said.

Deputy-reeve Stouffer said the program is aimed at finding work this winter for "unemployment insurance exhaustees" and those who are now receiving social assistance.

He said he was sure private foresters "could get a few (winter work) programs going -- such as the running of lines, or the taking out of culled trees."

Haliburton County has an unusually high percentage of private forest owners -- and Stouffer, looking around the council chamber, identified himself, Snowdon reeve Bob Vick, and Cardiff reeve-elect Mack Peters as being in that category.

He invited both Vick and Peters to the foresters' association meeting, which was held Monday night. Stouffer said that if NEED workers could be utilized to assist in forest management programs, under the direction of a professional forester, the county could be utilized to assist in forest management programs, under the direction of a professional forester, the county could plant the seeds of a brighter economic future.

"Even this year...a very slack year...the industry in the county topped $20 million in revenues," he said. By upgrading forestry, "we can look forward to a doubling of our revenues" in the years ahead.

There's just not enough money available for government to do the job that's needed, the report contends.

Must be done right

Most of the county councillors who spoke to Stouffer's comments had some reservations.

Carman Coumbs, the outgoing deputy-reeve of Monmouth township, said he had seen some land that had been "gone over" with skidders. "It was terrible...nothing was left standing but stumps, and there were holes that would bury a kids" at HHSS recently -- and nearly half of them lived on properties with five acres or more of workable forest. Most people, he said, "don't have much of an idea what an upgrading program is."

Since Haliburton County already has a large stand of hardwood bush -- about five to ten per cent of its forest area -- it "lends itself more to upgrading than other areas of the province."

Bob Vick, reeve of Snowdon township, argued that workers brought onto private land might ignore the wishes of owners, and cut down trees indiscriminately. He said most private foresters know enough to cut out the softwood "and leave the good stuff."

"You'd have to try them (NEED employees) out...and the landowners would have to have a lot to say," added Reeve Vick.

"I wouldn't mind a bunch of unemployed (working on my land)," joked Vick. "I'd have my winter wood cut."

Stouffer said that the private foresters' group feel that untrained NEED workers would have to be supervised by trained personnel in order to run the program smoothly.

The county's forest management committee, reported deputy-reeve Stouffer, is not having a good response from municipalities with its pamphlet distribution program.

A lot of municipalities within the county "haven't picked up their folders," which are to be folded into envelopes and sent out along with tax bills.

Private foresters' association discusses job creation scheme added the Stanhope deputy-reeve.

The idea behind management is simple, yet costly. Low quality wood -- spruce and birch, for example -- is cleared out so that more hardwoods can grow. Right now, the veneer market is at a low ebb, and deputy-reeve Stouffer said that without the firewood industry the forestry sector in the county would be in very deep trouble. High quality veneer is selling "at just $1 a foot," he noted.

A recent green paper, commissioned for the provincial government, recommends the "privatization" of the forest management sector -- since provincially-run forest management is not working because of inadequate funding.

bulldozer," he said. Dead timber or cleared softwood would best be removed by horses, he said.

Deputy-reeve Stouffer agreed that skidders, if used improperly, could be very destructive. He said that private land owners would have more say in the working of their own lands. The clearing referred to by Coumbs (which occurred on about 400 acres of land in Haliburton County) was on crown land, he said.

While most people would agree that the province "is doing a fine job" with limited manpower in managing crown land, deputy-reeve Stouffer said their is disagreement, even among ministerial employees, as how bush "should be handled." He said he talked to "about 135

Biggest shake-up in many years at county council

The Haliburton County council has experienced its biggest changeover in years.

Many familiar faces have left council this year, paving the way for new familiar faces have left council this year, paving the way for new ones. In all there will be eight new representatives on the 19-member council.

The new members include Lyle McKnight and Ed Pergolas (Anson, Hindon and Minden), Ross Duncan (Cardiff), Gary McKnight (Dysart), R Jane Franklin (Glamorgan), Harry Clark (Monmouth), Don Shortreed (Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone), Dwain Wruth (Snowdon) and Harry Davis (Stanhope). All were welcomed to last Wednesday's session of county council in Minden.

All were introduced by outgoing Warden Ron Gambell.

Most of those council members who were leaving took the chance to say a few words.

Jim Harrison, retiring reeve of Stanhope and a former warden thanked "all county council members for their support over the past few years." He gave special thanks to "Mac" McGilivray, Doug Pritchard, Keith Tallman and Murray Fearrey who were all on county council when Harrison first arrived.

Doug Pritchard, the ousted deputy-reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, said that since he was "on my way out I'd like to thank everyone (I've worked with) over the past ten years. I'd also like to wish the new council every success."

Carman Coumbs, defeated deputy-reeve of Monmouth, thanked the Warden and other members of council. "I've enjoyed working with you all," he said.

"I've enjoyed my term," said Harold Bannon, Dysart's former deputy-reeve. He said county council "has been good to me" over the past 15 years.

"Who knows," he said. "Maybe I'll think again (about running)...they say once it (municipal politics) is in your blood, it's hard to shake out."

Ken Maguire, who is stepping down from the reeve's chair in Glamorgan, thanked all the members of county council and the county clerk, Win Lahay.

A few thoughts

Ron Gambell will be back at county council as reeve of Lutterworth township, but Wednesday's meeting was his last as county Warden.

He took the chance to make a few observations.

Warden Gambell said this year's changeover "was one of the biggest" ever -- nearly 50 per cent of council are new members. "I'm looking forward to working with the new members," he said.

Valuable message for students

A well-attended banquet proved to be a fitting close to this year's Career Week. Well over 100 guests, including service club members, board of education representatives, municipal officials and students crowded into the Minden Community Centre.

With the theme of careers in mind head table guest Cathy Kinsman, a former HHSS student, discussed the need for people to "believe in what they do."

"You've got to learn to live...not just learn to make a living," she said. Kinsman is a performing arts graduate and is now pursuing a professional career that has taken her to Nashville and Los Angeles.

Attitude is important, said Kinsman. It's important "how you present yourself," she said.

"The most important thing of all is to find your place...to get a career and a job that you really enjoy," she added.

The guest speaker for the evening was Hal Hannaford, director of Camp Kilcoo.

Hannaford stressed the importance of "making the most of our particular situation." To bring this point home he relayed the story of a friend of his, Scott, who at 16 had received 13 offers from various American colleges to pursue an athletic career.

Then, disaster struck. "Scott and his friends were coming home from a ski trip to Collingwood. At the junction of highway 400 and 401 both their rear tires blew simultaneously," recalled Hannaford.

Scott was thrown hundreds of feet into the air by the force of the impact, and came crashing down on the right practicing holding a glass of water steady for hours. He's now a teacher in the Kingston area, said Hannaford.

"He made the most of the situation. He made a career out of losing," noted the guest speaker.

Careers
"It used to be career planning was non-existent," he said. Although times are tough, there are now thousands of different careers for students to select," added Hannaford.

The worst attitude stu-who had made Career Week possible.

Program chairman Bill Obee of the Minden Rotary Club received an award, as did Don Popple (Haliburton Rotary Club), Bill Kulas (Minden Kinsman's Club), Gary Chapman (Minden Rotary Club), Bob Stinson (secretary-manager, Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce) and Lyle McKnight (reeve-elect of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden).

Special thanks were also extended by Amyotte to Art Ward of the Wig-a-mog Inn and to the local Canada Manpower office.

A surprise award was given to HHSS teacher Ken Rydman, who was instrumental in getting the program organized. "I appreciate this award very much," he said, adding that the help of all the service clubs has made the program a success.

HHSS principal Dale Robinson noted that "so many people have been thanked" that one obvious group had been overlooked.

"We've got to thank you, the students, for a very successful Career Week," he said. Participation was "just marvellous," added Robinson.

Speeches, awards and food as Career Week winds up side of his body. His skull, shoulder, pelvis, and legs were crushed -- and he was hospitalized, in a coma, for five weeks.

"He recovered...but he had lost everything. He had to learn to speak and walk again, his coordination was gone." So too was his promising athletic career, noted Hannaford.

But Scott simply worked harder than he had before. He learned to walk once again, to speak, and to coordinate his movements -- dents could have is an apathetic one, he added.

Students should strive to be "successful in their own minds," he added. "Don't let others down, but more importantly, don't let yourself down."

On behalf of the students at HHSS Hannaford was given a "token of our appreciation" by Signe Tashlin.

Then student rep Mike Amyotte presented awards to those groups and individuals

Another step taken towards hospitality centre

The Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Committee, established over a year ago, has reached another milestone in its goal to establish a training centre for the hospitality industry in their area.

They have acquired the services of Susan Watkinson as the program development officer. She will be responsible for putting together the complete operational plan for the proposed centre between now and February. This will involve designing the curriculum, setting up the budget, recommending the facilities that would be used and the staff that would be required.

The committee is working on a Local Employment Assistance Program (LEAP) grant, provided by the federal government, which has provided just over $50,000 to take the program through the development stage. When Watkinson completes her work it will form part of the proposal which will go to the review board to be approved for ongoing funding. LEAP programs are designed to "create worthwhile employment for people who are unemployed and are not likely to become employed through normal labour market activity."

Several situations have been proven to exist through the studies conducted by the committee. There is a problem in the hospitality industry obtaining suitable staff as waiters and waitresses, cooks' helpers, bartenders and housekeeping personnel. There is also a large number of unemployed individuals whose basic life skills do not qualify them for these jobs. Community colleges train staff for supervision of these people, but the only training presently available to this level is on the job. This has proven unsatisfactory since most owners or managers have neither the time nor the capacity to provide thorough training.

Watkinson comes very well qualified for her position with quite a number of curriculum design projects to her credit. She will be coming here from Barrie where she has just completed a project for the tourism courses at Georgian College. The committee, who will continue to work with her, are made up of representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, The Manpower Outreach Centre, Sir Sandford Fleming College, the Haliburton County Board of Education and the industry itself.

Chamber manager Bob Stinson said his members are very enthusiastic about the project. "I think it will not only alleviate an unemployment problem, but it will

The new chairlift at Sir Sam's ski area is nearly complete, and should be in place by next week. The lift, designed and manufactured in Canada, will open

New chairlift is ready at Sir Sam's

Sir Sam's ski area has added something new this year.

A fourth ski tow, this one a double chair lift, has opened up "about 12 more acres of skiing," according to Robert Bishop of Sir Sam's.

Along with the ski area's other lifts (a chair lift, a T-bar and a pony lift) Bishop said he feels the new double chair will make all the runs "much more accessible to the skier."

Long hikes between runs will be a thing of the past, he explained -- the new chair means that once at the top of the hill, a skier has easy access to three open slopes and six trails.

The lift was manu factured in Canada, and features a unique "under bull-wheel" loading system. What this means is that the gears and machinery operating the tow are suspended above the skier -- out of his way.

"You can turn to the left or the right as you get off the tow, and when you're getting on, you can walk right up to it," explained Bishop. The lift will be operational for this season, as of December 10, and an official anniversary is set for "early in January," he said.

After starting out 17 years ago with a single T-bar Bishop feels this latest expansion "will probably do us for quite a while."

Hyland Crest home receives OHA accident prevention award

Hyland Crest Home for the Aged has received the Ontario Hospital Association's Accident Prevention Achievement Award for the year ending December 31, 1981.

The award is presented by the Association's Hospital Occupational Health and Safety Services (HOHSS), to the health care facilities with the lowest frequency of lost time injuries among its staff.

This is Hyland Crest Home for the Aged's second award; they previously received the award in 1980.

"Hospitals and other health care facilities are classified in five different categories, based on firm type and hours worked annually. Awards are presented each year to those facilities in the province with the best safety records," said Doug Callan, OHA's Assistant Executive Director, HOHSS.

"Of the 171 hospitals and 87 other health care facilities in Ontario participating, 35 have earned the award this year. All hospitals and other health care facilities in the province are eligible to receive the award."

Road woes ahead

New Sir Sam's turnoff is sharper, steeper

by MARTIN BIEFER
Echo Editor

More than 100 Eagle Lake area residents have petitioned Dysart council, asking them to ask the Ministry of Transportation and Communications to do something about the "improved" turnoff from Highway 519 to Sir Sam's Inn.

The petition was discussed by council at their regular meeting last Wednesday.

Motorists are now faced with a bend at the junction of 519 and Sir Sam's road that is not only sharp, but steep (see diagram). Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey estimates the grade of the hill at roughly 12 degrees.

Bob Bishop of Sir Sam's ski area called the new turnoff "a disaster area," and predicted that there will be accidents at the hill this year. "Let's hope they're not serious ones," added Bishop.

"Last year we had 40-car pileups at the bottom of the hill (see diagram). Now it will be worse," he warned.

The bulk of traffic coming into Sir Sam's, from highway 35, will now have to make a right-hand turn onto 519 and then a sharp, uphill left-hand turn of nearly 180 degrees. Once the hill gets icy, it will be "impossible," said Bishop.

Monitor situation

The MTC has been contacted by Dysart council. They say they will "monitor" the situation over the winter, said Dysart clerk Wayne Wood.

MTC also wrote Dysart council a letter stating that the modifications to highway 519 "had been carried out in accordance with ministerial guidelines for low traffic volume roads." The province did leave the door open to possible "re-assessment" of the situation next spring, if findings from their traffic monitoring this winter are conclusive.

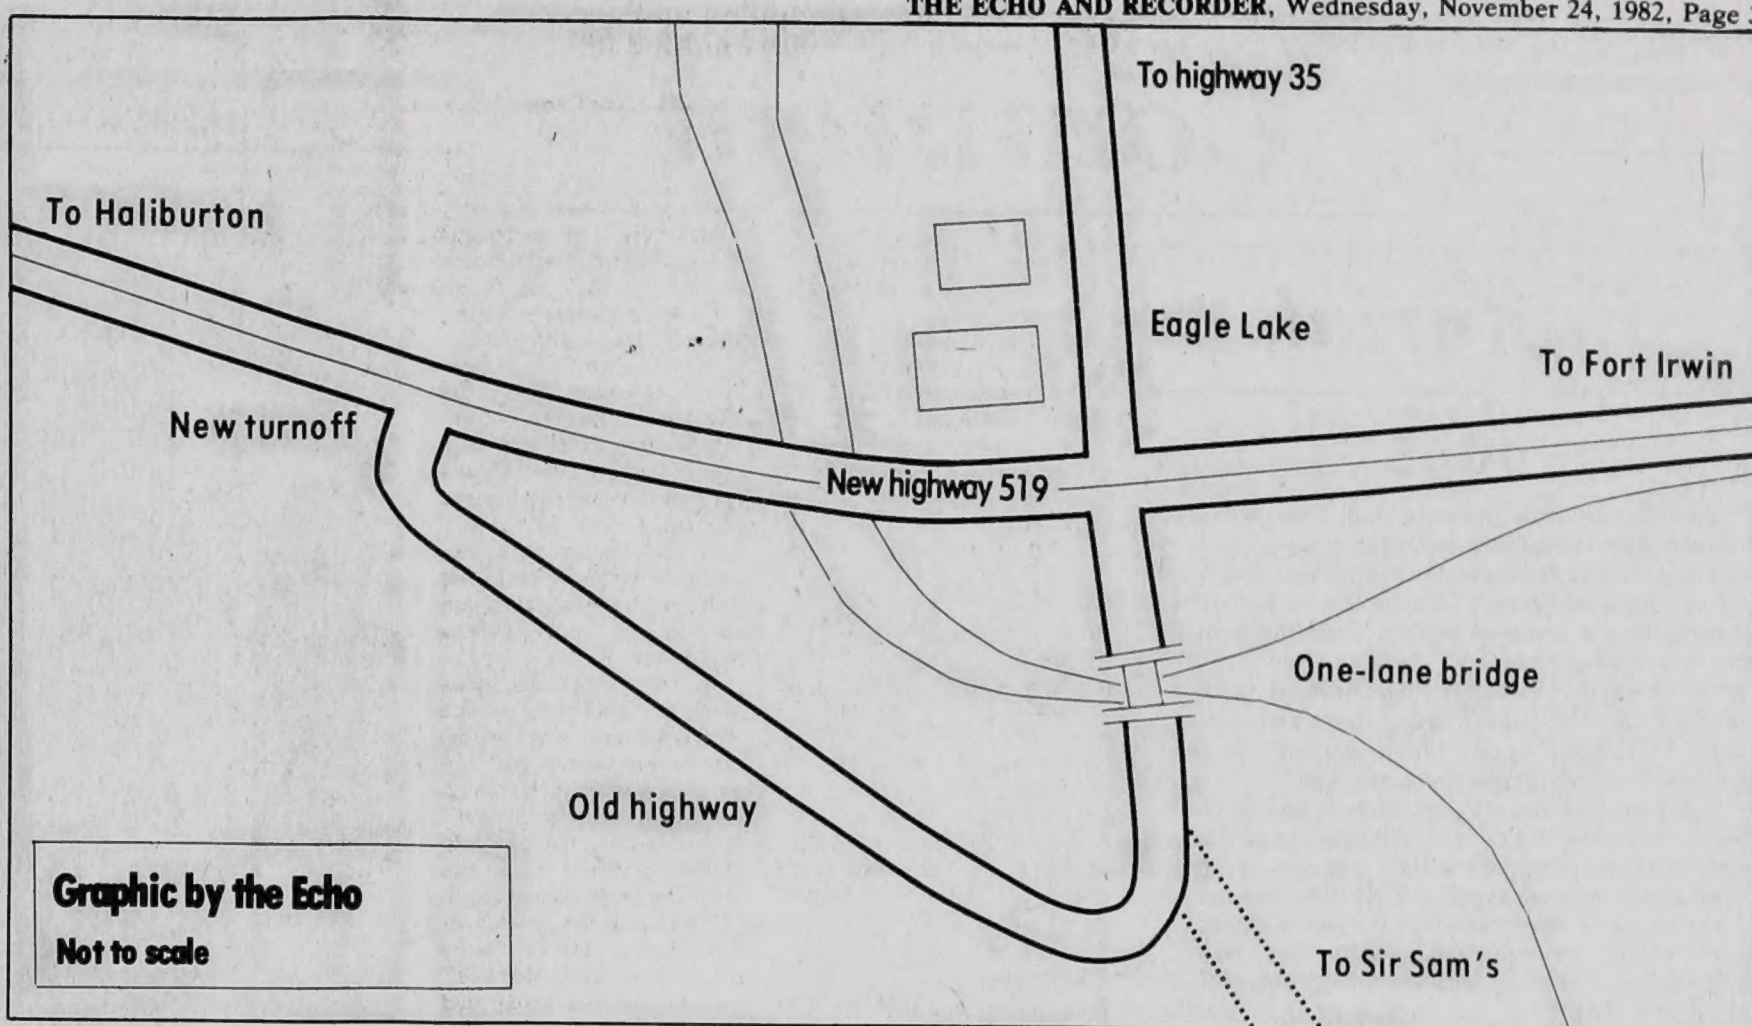

The text of the petition indicated that the residents felt the grade on the hill was quite simply far too steep. They called for either a change in the grade or a moving of the entrance way into Sir Sam's road.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey said the problem has not been solved -- but has "simply been moved" by the MTC. Last year's old route took incoming traffic over a one-lane bridge. Since a stop sign was in place at the bridge (see diagram) motorists "didn't have much of a run at the hill" and there were frequent traffic jams.

The re-designed intersection, said the reeve, must be due "to an error in the ministry's design (criteria)...it's obviously not a low traffic intersection."

Council unanimously voted to pass the concerns of the citizens on to the MTC.

Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins has been notified of the situation, council was told.

Waste study delayed; road work nearly done

A number of items were highlighted last Wednesday in Minden as the Haliburton County council met for its final session of this term.

The inaugural meeting of council will take Tuesday, December 14 at 7:00 pm. At that time the new reeves and deputy-reeves comprising the 19-member council will be officially sworn into office.

County engineer Bill Obee reported that county road work for this year was virtually complete. The only project still underway is a project on county road four, between Essonville and Wilberforce. Obee said the road will be widened, its grade altered, and an intersection on it replaced. He said that work should be complete within the next few weeks.

Cardiff reeve-elect Mack Peters relayed a complaint from a ratepayer to the county. Peters said that a Paudash-area ratepayer saw an Ontario Land Surveyor on his property, and went up to ask him what he was doing there. The surveyor replied that he was working for the county, and that the county was going to "expropriate" the ratepayer's land.

Obee, reached last Monday, said the county is merely been the property. There is no intention of expropriation, he added. Obee said he would speak to the surveyor and the ratepayer to settle the misunderstanding.

Peters said property owners should be kept well-informed about survey work on their property -- before it takes place.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey reported for the Hyland Crest management committee. He noted that the home for the aged's staff had won an accident prevention achievement award from the Ontario Hospital Association, and commended all staff members for their effort.

A second point of concern to Fearrey was the Harrison estate funds. He called for a motion to make advertising and circulation mandatory with regards to any by-law amendments or changes to estate matters. Interest on money left by the late Mrs. Harrison is to be used at Hyland Crest.

"We never want to see any funds used for anything other than what they were intended to be used for," he explained.

At Hyland Crest there are now 61 residents. Reeve Fearrey noted that there is a long waiting list at the home, which is a significant point considering "some (homes in the province) aren't even full."

Keith Tallman, reeve of Monmouth township, reported that the Kawartha, Pine Ridge and Haliburton County health unit had experienced a $26,000 "shortfall" this year -- but the provincial health ministry had agreed to help out this year. The ministry will make up the shortfall, said Reeve Tallman.

He stressed that as a result of provincial aid, there would be no layoffs this year.

Reeve-elect Bill Howe of Bicroft reported that the Children's Aid Society shelter in Peterborough had decided to switch over to gas heat, at a cost of about $4,000.

"It should pay for itself in about two years, through the savings," pointed out Reeve Howe.

Jim Harrison, the outgoing reeve of Stanhope township, reported on the progress of the Haliburton County bill at Queen's Park. He said that first reading of the bill -- which, when enacted, would establish Haliburton as a county, rather than a provisional county -- should reach first reading this week.

Since both Claude Bennett (municipal affairs and housing minister) and John Eakins (Victoria-Haliburton MPP) approve of the idea, Harrison said the bill should receive little opposition in the house. However, he said debate on the provincial restraint bill may delay the county bill's introduction.

County clerk Win Lahay reported that the waste management study for the county -- which outlines possible locations for dumps in each township -- has not been completed. It was to have been tabled at the Wednesday meeting, he said.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey asked how much money had been spent on the study, and was told that the third payment of $3,600 had been made to the consulting firm, Greer Galloway and Associates. Reeve Fearrey said that no more should be paid until the completed report is in county hands.

The new councillors were introduced and given words of advice on their upcoming terms in county office. They were then taken out for lunch by the outgoing council.

Shake-up at county

He advised the new members to be "positive...there's no prize for being negative."

"When you take your oaths of office you will be responsible to all the ratepayers in the county," pointed out Warden Gambell. "Seventy per cent of our income comes from tourism," he said, adding that special consideration must be given towards meeting the needs of lodge owners and seasonal residents.

"If we're negative on tourism, they're going to leave us," he warned.

As county council representatives "you'll be representing the best county in Ontario... I'm sure you all feel the same way about that."

In closing, the warden said he wanted to leave some words of wisdom with members new and old.

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I can't change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference," he said.

"I've been proud to represent Haliburton County," added Warden Gambell.

New life for the old school?

by MARTIN BIEFER
Echo Editor

The old Tory Hill school may soon have a new lease on life.

According to Monmouth township reeve Keith Tallman, the municipality's recreation committee will be holding a public meeting "in the next couple of weeks" to find out what Tory Hill residents want done with the building.

The options available, explained the reeve, include re-modelling the building, keeping it in its present form, or disposing of it.

"There are mixed feelings on the recreation board as to what they want to do with it," he said. A public meeting will help the rec board, and then the township council make up their minds, he explained. The building is currently owned by Monmouth township.

Monmouth township council has discussed re-modelling the school -- "it's the only (option) we've considered," said Reeve Tallman.

But the old school needs insulation, lower ceilings and "more or less a complete re-modelling," he said. Monmouth township has prepared a funding program for the school -- and grants for work are available.

Fond memories

Residents of the area have fond memories of the school -- both past and present.

Hubert Dunford, who lives just up the road from the old school, recalls that eight grades were taught at the school. "It was packed with kids...and there was only one teacher," he recalled.

Ross Anderson, Monmouth trustee on the Haliburton County Board of Education, said the school dates back to the turn of the century.

In 1965, because of declining enrolment, the school would be closed, and its remaining students transferred to Wilberforce.

"At one time there were grades one to ten, two teachers, and 40 or 50 students," he said. When the school was closed there was quite a bit of opposition from Tory Hill residents, remembered Anderson, who was once a student at the school.

"I imagine one received a good education for that time," he said of the school. "Of course it wouldn't do for today."

In 1966-67 the building was used for a unique purpose. It was, for a time, the only school for the mentally retarded in rural Ontario. The school was run jointly by the North Hastings and Haliburton boards of education -- a system of management that was also unique.

After 1967 the building was no longer used for education. The Ministry of Transportation bought the building at one point, feeling that they might need the right-of-way if Highway 121 were to be widened.

Luckily for the building, the township of Monmouth was able to buy the property from the board of education (after the MTC had sold it back) when the province decided they weren't going to need the right-of-way after all.

"It's been a long, drawn-out process," said Keith Tallman. The building had been rented and leased to the township for a number of years, so when the opportunity arose last year to purchase it, Monmouth wasted little time.

Over the years since the school bell stopped ringing the building has been used for a variety of uses. According to Marg Finlay of Tory Hill it's the site of weekly euchre games, local bridal showers and marriages, and so on. But it's life as a community hall may be brief if such things are a leaky roof, inadequate plumbing and "a few other little things" aren't looked at, she said.

A different time

Tory Hill residents miss the children -- the Christmas concerts, the local sports, and the peal of the school bell.

But the one-room school is now virtually unheard of in Canada. Gone are the things that those who attended there remember the best -- the personal attention from the teachers, the closeness between all students, and so on.

But it was no picnic for one person to teach eight grades.

"Some of our teachers would be still over there well after midnight," said Ross Anderson. He said the teachers were caught up in the hard work of giving a standard provincial education to students of varied grade levels.

"You paid attention to what

The wooden-framed Tory Hill school is a landmark in the hamlet. But it needs repairs to the roof, insulation, and plumbing repairs in order to be serviceable once more as a community centre.

you were doing," he said. Although at times it was confusing to have eight grades being taught at one time, students "sometimes picked things up from their classmates who were a grade ahead," said Anderson.

And while teachers knew every student in the school, and their families, today's educators can hardly be expected to have that same degree of closeness, he said.

It's pretty near impossible today for the teacher to know all the families...or even for the families to know all the teachers," he said with a smile.

Jobs

There's very little question that more jobs are needed here in Haliburton County.

The area has traditionally been "seasonal" in its employment pattern -- with the bulk of jobs coming in the summer months, and the winter being a slack period.

We're in the down period, now. A glance through the local papers shows there aren't very many jobs listed under "help wanted" in the classified. Some weeks there are none.

The private foresters' association has hit the nail right on the head -- and is taking the effort to see whether jobs in forestry can be created through the federal/provincial NEED program.

Let's see if our communities and municipal governments can put their collective heads together, and come up with job ideas. Dysart has hired two workers to clear brush along right-of-ways through a different program.

Perhaps arena repair work, winter road maintenance, or even helping maintain snowmobile trails is the answer. Our snowmobilers in Paudash have taken that step.

The number of jobs created is directly proportional to the number of ideas submitted by groups. Remember, individuals are not permitted to ask for assistance.

If the provincial and federal governments are willing to spend a total of $230 million in Ontario, surely we can get them to spend one per cent of that here.

The $1 million would see a lot of families through what may be a long, cold winter.

Metric

The metric debate rages on.

This week three more gas station owners in Toronto switched from litres back to gallon, in direct defiance of the metric commission of Canada.

Most would have dismissed the metric issue as a bland, uncontroversial switch from Imperial to metric measure. But there are some who view the switch as an almost personal attack on their rights.

Every week this newspaper receives another information package from the metric commission. This week's message was that "a gram of prevention is worth a kilogram of cure."

By now most motorists are used to driving at 80 all the time. And, whether it's litres or gallons, it still costs a lot to fill up a tank with gas these days.

It's odd how the opponents of metric have waited all these years to launch their attack.

The first talk of switching to metric was, after all, in 1971...nearly 12 years ago.

The talk of "French quarts" (litres) raised its head just in the last couple of years.

Are opponents of metric merely good Tories -- or do they legitimately feel the system is unworkable? Do they think Imperial measure should be re-instated, at an enormous cost?

The government has spent millions of dollars on conversion to metric. Whether people like it or not that money is gone -- and to switch back would mean a doubling of that expenditure.

Perhaps, like the opposition to flouridation in the early sixties, the opponents of metric will fade away. Or, they may be successful in their bid to change the government in Ottawa.

Career Week

Career Week went off well this year, as it has in the past.

As principal Dale Robinson of HHSS pointed out, its success is not just due to the various service clubs and organizations who sponsor it -- it is also due to the students themselves.

They stand to gain the most from the week's events.

It's easy to forget, after a few years in the work force, that moment when one decides to leave high school. The choices are endless at that time -- one can attend college or university, travel, work -- the possibilities go on and on.

Unburdened by car payments, mortgages and credit card bills high school students can go anywhere they want -- and at any time.

Sometimes it's hard for them to realize that there is a time limit on that mobility.

The best policy for them is patience. Don't make a rash, spur of the moment decision -- but consider the consequences of what you are going to do.

Letters to the Editor

An open letter to the newly-elected education board trustees

An open letter to the trustees of The Haliburton County Board of Education:

Congratulations on your success in the recent election. I feel fairly sure that the office that you hold collectively will be responsibly managed for the next three years. I have not had an opportunity to speak with many of you since that time, but I would like to share some issues besides those that were mentioned at the all candidates meeting. I would like to share a few of the other interests I've been considering since the beginning of the campaign:

□ Improved promotion of student and teacher exchanges internationally

□ Funding for the purchase of an hydraulic wheelchair bus against the time when Bill 82 becomes fully effective and the vehicle is needed for the handicapped

□ The inception of a "Junior Teachers Corps" from among more successful high school students, as an enrichment activity -- they might work with elementary school students on a one afternoon/week(month) basis, and everyone gains potentially □ Improved drug advice to students at all levels - even common aspirin is a drug in the strict sense. I'm sure that Dr Pierce will be very helpful in this regard.

□ I suggest that a debating team(s) be fielded to persuade students to better understand important issues of the day

□ I recommend that the subject of January registrations for kindergarten be reviewed. The local system is not providing for several 'four year olds' who become five in the early new year and are forced to languish for as long as nine more months before finally being allowed enrolment □ Certain other boards do provide the January enrolment option. The existing policy (of using calendar criteria to determine fiscal answers) is terribly archaic. It's something akin to using imperial measure to solve metric problems.

□ I believe that Sir Sandford Fleming's outreach campus should have a name change. Northern Campus is not nearly as definitive as, say "Head Lake Campus", or "Haliburton Campus." Perhaps from this change more people would begin to know where we are, and what we do.

□ I think we should more actively be seeking credit courses for the campus, and federal and provincial funding for those courses.

□ When the ministry of education changes senior matriculation from grade thirteen to grade twelve, as they inevitably will, it will be important to have other options already in place for the graduating students, and for the high school teachers who will be displaced. We don't want them having to leave the community to pursue interests and professions if it can in any way be avoided.

I believe that the flag system on school buses should be reviewed soon (before a serious or fatal accident is the result of misplaced optimism).

□ Other purposes for the Victoria Street School facility should already be being considered through committee despite the fact that there are still a few good years left in the old girl as an elementary school - perhaps as a convalescent center; or "drop in" center; or a music conservatory; or even on a shared basis with another ministry.

In any case I do wish you all the best of all good fortune in years to come.

Notebook

I had the opportunity to attend the Career Week panel discussions Thursday at HHSS - and the speeches brought back some interesting memories.

All the panel discussions gave students some very important information about selecting a career, and about selecting the post-secondary course that's right for your life.

What was most interesting to me was the discussion between a panel of students now enrolled in university and a large group of high school students. The university students talked about key problems -- courseloads, accommodation, tuition fees, and the need for self-discipline.

But there's some other areas that must be mentioned -- for example, after you've chosen a post-secondary course, and got in to university or college, you will inevitably have to face finding a job. Getting in to the right course is only half the battle -- getting out and finding the job you want is the most difficult.

Many of my friends from university got their degrees -- even, in some cases, their master's degrees -- but found they had committed themselves to an area that was far too specific.

One friend has not yet found a full-time job, after graduating in 1981, because he has a degree in East European studies. There were about six jobs for several hundred graduates.

Another took a straight political science degree program, then switched to mass communications, then switched to biology, and is now taking business administration at a community college.

Of my class of 1981, only a handful made it "big" and went to work at the Star or the Globe. Many now work at smaller newspapers, but by and large the majority stayed in Ottawa and are working for the government.

When I was in grade 13 we had a Career Week too. I skipped it.

So when the guidance people came around with enrolment forms for university and college I had to decide on a career in about five minutes. It was a very stupid move on my part.

I didn't really know what my course was going to be about, nor did I understand what university would be like. All this information could have been mine for the asking.

I got through -- after surviving the first year, which consisted of 50 per cent learning and 50 per cent partying -- but looking back I often still wonder how it all came together.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

Editor's note: Creighton Feir is still on vacation, so we will try and mention some of the items he would. Creighton will be back next week.

Congratulations to all the groups and individuals who made Career Week a success at HHSS. Both the Minden and Haliburton Rotary Clubs, the Minden Kinsman's Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden combined to make this year's program a success.

Let's hope the students -- for whom the program is held -- got the most out of it this year.

The panel discussions Thursday were extremely well-attended, and all organizers are to be complimented for the idea of allowing parents and students to attend the "post-secondary night" held Tuesday.

Many parents may be unaware of the progress that's been made in improving college education.

What was once considered a poor second choice in post-secondary education is now placed by many experts on a par with university. As well, parents were given the chance to find out about the many new careers opening up for students.

It's been a very good month so far for entertainment in the area.

Last Wednesday night a delighted audience enjoyed a fine performance by the "Arete" mime troupe -- the first in a series of productions being brought to Haliburton through the Haliburton Highlands Concert series.

In the new year musician Hagood Hardy will be brought to Haliburton, and later on, the play "Madly in all directions" will be staged here. The latter is a tribute to Canadian humorist Stephen Leacock.

Down at the Rails' End Gallery the annual Christmas Craft Sale is now underway. There will be lots to see -- and a chance to get some Christmas shopping out of the way.

Next month the Highlands Little Theatre will perform "The Savage Dilemma", a play by John Patrick. The play will be staged at HHSS, and will run for three consecutive nights, December 9 through December 11. The curtain goes up at 8:00 pm sharp.

For the Scots among us the St Andrew's Day Concert at the West Guilford Community Centre has long been a date circled on the calendar.

But for those unfamiliar with the land of heather and haggis the event takes place Friday, November 26, at 7:30 pm.

Apartment Sales

A temporary five per cent limit on rent increases claimed for higher financing costs arising from a change of ownership has been imposed by the Ontario government, although owners of such properties would still be entitled to the automatic annual six per cent increase allowed under the province's rent control laws. The Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations has also announced an increase in the length of time landlords can be required by the provincial Residential Tenancy Commission to phase in higher rents caused by financing costs when a building is sold.

If a building is sold twice within three years, the new owner will have to wait at least three more years before recovering any of the refinancing costs involved in the second sale.

Events have been moving very quickly in connection with the controversial Cadillac-Fairview/Greymac/Kilderkin/Saudi Arabian sale.

The Residential Tenancy Commission has set up a special team to deal with all rent hike applications for the 11,000 former Cadillac-Fairview units, in the hope of ensuring that there is no confusion or duplication. The nine member team, including three commissioners and a support staff of six is being set up in Toronto, as one of a number of proposals following the controversial triple sale which ended in the purchase of the units by a consortium, reported to be Saudi Arabian, represented by a series of numbered companies.

A royal commission, headed by lawyer Stuart Thom, will examine all aspects of Ontario's rent control legislation in effect since 1976. A second inquiry will investigate the role of Greymac Trust Co, Crown Trust Co, and Seaway Trust Co, all of which provided mortgages for the sale of the apartments.

The minister rejected calls for a broader investigation with the power to subpoena witnesses and information, saying such an inquiry would result in a "witch hunt" of private companies whose privacy is protected under law. He said he would take further action only if there were reasonable and probable grounds to suspect wrongdoing.

Landlords will still be able to apply for additional rent increases based on other factors such as increased operating costs or major improvements.

Legislation will soon be introduced which will mean that tenants of apartment buildings sold after October 31 will face lower rent increases than they might otherwise have done. It will apply to applications for a rent increase between the start of this month and the end of next year.

Liberal leader David Peterson has charged that the government is refusing to investigate all aspects of the controversial Cadillac-Fairview sale because it has something to hide. "I don't have much faith in their objective view of these transactions," he said. "Who knows what they know or don't know?"

There is apparently, he said, evidence to suggest that the principals involved in the three-way sale may not have been dealing at arm's length (the buyers and sellers may have shared financial interests). "Some people who have looked at the deal say there are no Saudis involved at all," he said. "There's a good chance it's just a series of internal transactions."

On November 9, the minister had announced that the apartment buildings had been purchased by Saudi Arabian investors. However, he later said he was not certain of this information and that he had been relying on a conversation with a Toronto lawyer who says he represents Saudi interests.

Report from Parliament

by Bill Scott, MP

As a member of Parliament, my office receives regularly the current statistics on the status of our economy. In the past year, these statistics have, to say the least, portrayed a very deep recessionary spiral.

In these weekly columns, I have tried to keep you informed of the actual figures on unemployment, the deficit, and government spending. It has not been a pleasant task passing on such worrisome details, but you have the right to know where we actually stand.

A detail which has been much discussed in the media is the unprecedented level of bankruptcies in the first quarter of this year. For your interest, and to clarify exactly what has happened, I present the following table prepared from statistics provided by the bankruptcy branch of the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs.

From the Chamber

with Bob Stinson

Last Week was Career Week

Career Week throughout the rest of Ontario was held three weeks ago but in view of the reverence with which we observe deer hunting season, and the fact that the two dates conflicted, we held our activities last week.

The Chamber movement throughout Ontario has been very concerned in recent years about the lack of direction our students seem to be getting in the schools. Far too many young people are coming out of the system with no idea where they want to go and what they want to do. It is no simple choice either in these days of such rapid change where what appeared to be a secure trade yesterday suddenly becomes obsolete tomorrow. Our young people need all the help they can get, and in many cases far more than they are getting to assist them in making career choices.

Many chambers reported that when they approached the guidance departments of the schools to become involved in their career week activities the doors were closed. Those concerned seemed to feel threatened by outsiders becoming involved. The chambers on the other hand insist that the guidance department of any school needs "outsider involvement" more than any other. After all the students are looking for information of a specific nature about businesses, trades and professions which certainly the guidance counsellor themselves have never worked at. In most cases their work experience may not go beyond teaching.

We are very fortunate here in Haliburton that this attitude does not exist. Ken Rydman and the students themselves have been very active in organizing the activities for this week. The school administration has been very cooperative in allowing the time to carry it out. Last, but certainly not least, the members of our business community have responded, along with some outside experts, to contribute their expertise and make themselves available for questioning by the students. Our young people, as a result of all this, are receiving an opportunity to become far more aware and prepared for the future they face after they graduate. We now look forward to the day when this sort of a program will be provided for all the high school students, rather than just the senior grades.

Shop at home

With the first winter snows thoughts begin to turn to Christmas and the annual shopping spree that always accompanies it. It is to be expected that many will be trimming down their lists this year and working on tighter budgets so retailers are not anticipating any return to the Christmas boom of a few years ago. Retailers here, however, tell us that the "boom" always has been relatively minor since so many people seem to feel it necessary to head to Toronto or Peterborough to do their shopping.

Just as the country is concentrating on keeping our dollars in Canada we should be thinking about keeping our local dollars in Haliburton County. Tourism dollars that come into the area take on more and more importance depending on how often they are turned over. Every dollar we spend near home helps to ensure our local economy and thereby employment.

Not only are local stores quite competitive with those in the larger centres, but the abundance of local crafts people also allows you to obtain gifts that are unique and reflective of the Highlands. Other gift suggestions would include historical books on Haliburton such as In Quest of Yesterday or gift subscriptions to local papers to friends or relatives that are interested in the county and its happenings.

New Look at Sportsmen's Show

The Boys and Girls Camps of Haliburton County are getting involved in our display at the Sportsmen's Show this year. A section of the booth will be devoted entirely to promoting their industry and a representative of one of their camps will be on hand at all times to answer questions about their facilities and programs. In addition Haliburton Hockey Haven have obtained a booth directly across the aisle from us which will help to reinforce this new theme.

Other members of the Chamber will be invited to participate in the booth as in the past and we will have details in our next newsletter.

Wayne Ellison (left) is down as Craig Cowan (centre), Greg Bishop (number 11) and Paul Morrisette (right, dark jersey) look for a loose puck. Emmerson's won the game 13 - 9 over Bishop and Wilson in men's industrial league action last week.

Men's Industrial League all tied up

Men's Industrial League hockey moved into week number two of the season last Monday -- and there is now a four-way tie.

In the first game, Haliburton Lumber topped Curry Motors, while Emmerson Lumber stopped Bishop and Wilson in the nightcap.

Haliburton Lumber 7, Curry Motors 5

Curry's opened the scoring just 27 seconds into the game, as Tom Curry scored from Glen Scully. But Haliburton Lumber came back with two powerplay goals -- by Wayne Ellison from Ken Riley at 8:41, and Derwin Barry from Roger Bain at 19:03.

Curry's tied things up very early in the second. At 1:25 John Robinson scored from Curry. But Haliburton Lumber came back with three -- Brian Mulholland from Dwight Sisson and Phil Barry, at 3:53, Bain from Gary Burch and Ellison at 4:49, and Ellison from Barry and Mulholland at 16:54.

A valiant effort by Curry's came up short in the third as they attempted a comeback. They scored three goals, to tie the game at five, in the space of four minutes.

At 4:14 Steve Roberts tallied, from Curry and Rene Bonfield. At 5:59 Roberts scored his second of the night, from Robinson. And then, at 7:21, Drew Caney scored from Bob Nichols.

But a goal by Bain (from Ellison) proved to be the winner at 9:13. Burch added the insurance marker, unassisted, with 4:06 to go.

Penalties hurt Curry's -- they were assessed six three-minute penalties to just one against Haliburton Lumber.

Emmerson Lumber 13, Bishop and Wilson 9

It was Joe Roberts' night in the second game -- he scored five goals to lead his mates to victory.

Emmerson's scored three in the first. Roberts got the opener, unassisted, at 1:56.

Then, at 9:36, he helped out on Dean Curry's goal. Paul Morrisette got an assist as well.

Roberts got his second, from Mark Schell, at 16:15. With 2:19 to go Steve Cooper scored from Lee Bull and Craig Cowan.

In the busy second period, the scoring went this way:

- 4:20 Emmerson's, Gary Brohman from Keith Hodgson and John Fitzgerald
- 7:36 Emmerson's, Luke Schell from Jerry Walker and Sheldon Nicholls
- 10:02 Emmerson's, Fitzgerald unassisted
- 11:06 Emmerson's, Morrisette from Larry Hartin
- 12:32 Bishop and Wilson, Cooper from Bull and Billings
- 13:11 Emmerson's, Roberts from Hodgson and M Schell
- 17:51 Emmerson's, Roberts from Morrisette and M Schell
- 19:13 Emmerson's, Curry, unassisted

In the third, trailing 10-2, the Bishop and Wilson side staged a rather incredible comeback, scoring seven times to Emmerson's three. The scoring went this way:

- 3:47 Bishop and Wilson, Bull from Cowan and Curry
- 4:09 Bishop and Wilson, Bull from Cooper and Cowan
- 5:00 Bishop and Wilson, Greg Bishop from Billings and Emmerson
- 9:56 Emmerson's, Brohman unassisted
- 11:27 Emmerson's, Roberts from M Schell
- 14:22 Bishop and Wilson, Emmerson from G Bishop and Billings
- 15:17 Bishop and Wilson, Cooper from Bull and Billings
- 16:30 Bishop and Wilson, Cowan from Bull and Billings
- 17:50 Emmerson's, Curry from M Schell
- 19:50 Bishop and Wilson, Emmerson from Paul Howe and Billings.

Games are played every Monday night.

Huskies tie Huntsville 5-5

Coach feels the club may now be over the hump and on their way back

The Haliburton Huskies ended their long losing streak Sunday afternoon with a 5-5 draw against Huntsville.

According to coach Gary Warburton, the team is "over the hump" now -- and, he added, "all they need is confidence." "Next week will tell the tale," said Warburton.

Haliburton 5, Huntsville 5

The Huskies did most of their scoring in the first period, and at the end of one frame enjoyed a 4-2 lead. Haliburton goal scorers were Glen Evans (from Ed Davis and Kevin Shapiera), Kevin Warburton (from Evans), Scott Mitchell (from Mike Rae), and Scott Rae (from Mike Rae).

Outshoot visitors
39 to 28

Jamie Swift got a pair for Huntsville. Mark Yarranton and Kevin Pinkerton each got an assist.

In the second Huntsville came back with a pair of goals. Don Monahan (from John Raney) and Peter Atkinson (from Monahan and Paul Brear) were the Huntsville marksmen.

The Huskies scored what proved to be the tying goal with 4:32 to go in the second. Scott Rae scored from Shapiera and Dave Lennie -- and at the end of two Haliburton led 5-4.

Huntsville managed to come back for the tie, however. Like their fourth goal, their fifth was scored on a powerplay. It was Atkinson, with his second of the night, who took the victory away from Haliburton. John Raney and Brear got assists.

Ed Davis of the Huskies (right) appears to be explaining the finer points of hockey to a downed Huntsville goaltender. The Huskies tied Huntsville 5-5 Sunday at the Dysart Community Centre.

For the first time all year, reports Gary Warburton, the Huskies managed to outshoot their opponents. Colin Newell faced 28 shots, while Bill Dubois for Huntsville handled 39.

Fifteen penalties were doled out to the Huskies, while Huntsville received 12.

Coach Warburton said

Monday night that he was very pleased with the play of the Huskies, and pointed out that "75 per cent of them weren't playing organized hockey" last year. Some haven't played for several years, he said.

Brian Black of the Huskies executive said Monday morning that the OHL has approved a system agreed upon last week by officials in Minden and Haliburton minor hockey.

The provincial minor hockey association has approved the idea of "sharing" players. Haliburton juvenile players can now be released to Minden to play on a Minden card, while Minden juveniles will be able to play for the Huskies on their Minden cards.

Gumdrops take seven

The Gumdrops started the second series in first place by taking seven points from the Humbugs.

Harry Henderson bowled a 683 triple for the Chunkies keeping them in second spot with five points. The Big Six place third with four points. Turtles have three, Smarties two, and Humbugs zero.

High bowlers this week were: Harry Henderson (233, 291) -- 683 triple; Phyllis MacDuff (302, 207) -- 674 triple; Jim Grant (226, 268) -- 664 triple; Ev Stata (205, 250) -- 647 triple; Norma Parish (246-207) -- 645 triple; and Loretta Henderson (214 - 217) -- 614 triple.

Other games 200 and over included those of Mary Lou Bird, 249; Iris Meredith, 223; Min Gilhooly, 219; and Frieda Handy, 205.

Men's high average - Gord Bennet, 200. Women's high average - Joan MacKay, 217.

Bancroft tops Inter-City Tire 5-4

Two games were played in the minor hockey division in Wilberforce on Saturday. Haliburton defeated Wilberforce Novices 10-0, as well as winning 3-0 in the Pee-wee game.

In Bancroft the pharmacy team beat out Wilberforce Bantams in a close 2-1 victory, while our Atoms wiped out the home Superior Propane lads 8-0. This leaves the Wilberforce boys still undefeated and sitting in first place in their division.

All four games will be played at home on Saturday, November 27 commencing at 12 noon.

In men's hockey, Inter-City Tire met Bancroft Sports Centre Friday night for a closely-matched game that ended with Bancroft popping in the winning goal at the four second mark of the third period for a 5-4 victory. Saturday night saw a 5-5 draw when Inter-City faced off against the Maynooth Ranchers in Wilberforce.

All in all a close couple of games. This week-end brings us two league games at home, Friday, November 26 Whitfield Plumbing will arrive for a 7:00 pm faceoff, while Saturday will see the same teams, same place at 8:00 pm. Looks like a lively upcoming two days for all you local fans - come out and support our fellows -- french fries, hockey and hot chocolate, what a mix!

The Monmouth Curling Club was a busy spot this past Tuesday night as old pros and prospective enthusiasts alike gathered for an enjoyable evening at their open house. Looks like the season is off to a sweeping (alright, admittedly horrible, a true groaner but that's what a grey, drizzly Sunday afternoon in Wilberforce does to a person!) start.

For any other procrastinators (like myself), you can still keep January in mind to sign up for the second half of the season. After all, where else can you inspire cheering throngs by throwing rocks?

Novice Blue team humbles Wilberforce

Haliburton's Novice Blue team travelled to Wilberforce on Saturday and defeated the young Wilberforce Novice team 10-0.

The line of Jason Casey at centre, Jordan Howard at left wing and Chad Bain at right wing did all the damage in the first period. Jason scored the first goal unassisted at 2:58. Jordan then got his first of two goals assisted by Chad and Matthew Williams.

Jason scored his second goal assisted by Jordan and Chad. Jordan made the score 4-0 at the end of the first period assisted by Jason and Mike Rosenberg.

pass from Todd at the blue line.

Jason Casey got his hat trick with a nifty deke around a defenceman. Colin and Matthew assisted on the goal. The third period got underway and Haliburton continued to pressure the Wilberforce team. Todd Hargreaves got his first goal with assists going to Greg and Peter. Greg Stamp got two more goals to give him his hat trick plus one with assists going to Peter and Colin and Todd and Peter.

The boys played very well offensively and get great support from Brett Jackson in goal and Mike Rosenberg, Matthew Williams and Colin Sisson on defence to keep Wilberforce off the score board.

The next game is in Bancroft at 11:30 this Saturday against Bancroft (1) who defeated us 3-2 in our first game of the year.

The Haliburton Midgets gave it their best shot in a tournament Saturday, but were unable to come away with a victory. They did manage to make the semi-finals. See the accompanying story on this page.

HeadNuts win by 3-0

"Haliburton HeadNuts" visited Wilberforce on Saturday for their third game of the season. In the first period Haliburton scored on a goal by Allan Rydman, assisted by Wallace Wood to go into a 1-0 lead.

In the second period Wallace Wood scored, being set up by nice passing from David Hodgins and Paul Robinson. Wallace Wood got his second of the period after hard work by Allan Rydman and Mark Robinson got the puck to him in front of the net.

There was no scoring in the third and Callum Wood maintained his shut-out of the season by stopping a Wilberforce breakthrough. The game was a good team effort.

Haliburton HeadNuts' next game is at Bancroft at 9:30 am, on Saturday.

Haliburton Midgets fare well in tourney

Last Saturday the annual Midget OMHA tournament was held at the Dysart arena.

Our local boys got off to a strong start with an 8-1 victory over Omamee. Scoring for Haliburton were Kelly Mitchell with a five goal performance, Bernie Upton with a pair and Jeff Bain with a singleton.

The stars chosen for the game were Kelly Mitchell from Haliburton and Steve Spear for Omamee.

Haliburton did not fare so well in their second game as a strong Ennismore team defeated them 6-2. Scoring for the home team were Charlie Teljeur and Jeff Bain who also earned the star award.

For Ennismore, the star selection was John MacBeth who was a stand-out during the whole tournament.

The consolation final was an excellent game between Beaverton and Madoc. Beaverton won the Frank McIntyre Memorial Trophy on an overtime goal by big number 17, Toby Carriato. Toby not only scored the overtime goal -- but was also picked the star of the game as well as Kevin Bertrand for Madoc.

At the championship final a very strong Port Perry team out-muscled and out-scored a fine Ennismore team 5-2. The Neiman Memorial Trophy was presented to the Port Perry captain Jeff Johnston along with the first star award.

The star of the game for Ennismore was Jerry Arcand for his fine defensive performance.

Doris took us in the bus to the Minden Cultural Centre to witness the dedication and unveiling of the new County Cairn, erected in memory of those who gave their lives in both world wars. A real impressive service -- everyone did his part so well, and no one was a bit nervous.

The Harold Thompsons have gone to Saskatchewan to be with their family until after the Christmas holidays -- so we had no one to play for us for the service Sunday.

Rev Burgess spoke on the twenty-first chapter of Revelation. Now the books of Revelations is hard to understand; but the way Rev Burgess explained it to us, was quite grand.

Lynda stayed and showed us three movies Monday night. "Gold Wood," "Tara's Model Garden," and "Moon March." What a sight.

Tuesday morning's service in the chapel this lovely November day was taken by our United Church minister, who lives just across the way.

Barbara came to sing, and Agnes to play.

Rev. Westhaver spoke on the life of the man that composed the hymn "What a Friend we have in Jesus." It was an interesting service.

One day we were entertained down in the auditorium, by Mrs. Corby's great-grandson, rolling the balls around the floor. He sure had a lot of fun.

We have Herbert Shorter back again after undergoing surgery. His wife is wearing a happy smile, since with her husband she can be.

We have Tammy Alton for a while to help wait on the tables. She is doing a real nice job, and seems to be quite able.

Tuesday night is music night. The Watson - Smith duo came to entertain; played us lively music, and we look forward to them coming again.

A word about the cleaners, who keep this place shining. They work day after day, you don't hear any whining.

They dust, polish, clean, and they scrub -- they stop at lunchtime for a quick bite of grub.

A few minutes rest and then they are up and at it again.

Down at fun and fitness we have a lot of fun. The game we played Wednesday morning Lola Prentice won.

It is nice to have nurse Griffin back again, after a month's holiday. She surely was missed around this place while she was away.

Sorry to report Ida Schell is in hospital. We hope she will soon be back again, fit as a fiddle.

Wednesday night is games night here. Ada Alcorn and I played euchre against Lisa Raby, and Penfold Bob. Each side won a game, and was a real good job.

Thursday afternoon the RC ladies from Haliburton brought in a tasty lunch, this nice November day, and served it out so lovely, on little TV trays.

Millie Wood made oatmeal muffins for our lunch Wednesday night. Although she had never tried them before, they turned out just right.

Bert Harrison

Thursday night, Tom Prentice and Marg Young of the Kinsman Club came up from Minden town. Put on a bingo for us -- they seldom let us down.

Grace Coburn and Fred Ballard came this Friday afternoon to entertain us for a while, with songs and organ tunes.

The ladies from the craft-room have gathered up two bundles of socks, mitts and toques. One bundle has been donated to the Salvation Army in Haliburton, and one bundle to the Kinsmen at Minden, as contributions to their Christmas baskets.

We had our party Friday night of cheese and wine. The Fenelon gals came along and entertained us fine. To these talented ladies, all over 65, we take off our hats. It must take a lot of practice to put on a show like that. We say "thank you" for a job well done. The flower wagon brought $63 and Mary Hamilton won.

It's Christmas time again -- although the snow isn't on the ground yet. The Haliburton UCW held a Christmas bazaar at the church Saturday, and Christmas shoppers chose from a variety of baked goods and handcrafted items.

HCHSS health seminar attracts over 120 people

Over 120 persons attended the workshop held at the PineStone Inn which dealt with physical, mental and spiritual health on October 29 under the auspices of the HCHSS and with funding from New Horizons.

About 20 students from the high school enrolled in the family studies course, participated in the program which included a noon dinner.

Special speakers included Dr. Joy Ballard, Wilberforce; Paul Tuttle, Oshawa; Wolfgang Pusztay, Bancroft; and Rev Dr. Bob Clark, Inverary. Out-of-town guests included Alan Cavell from the Ministry of Community and Social Services, Marlis Lindsay from New Horizons and Julia Clark of Inverary.

Barb Pierce, of Haliburton, divided the meeting into six discussion groups to discuss the effects of isolation, communication, prevention and early detection and volunteers and how we can better serve those experiencing physical, mental or spiritual health problems.

Doris McCann was given a rousing ovation when Jack Bassett advised the audience that she had been chosen 1982's Highlander of the Year by the chamber of commerce for her work in founding the Haliburton County Home Support Services.

We Canadians are a hardy race; cold and snow are no strangers. So it would seem that we should need little teaching in the art of surviving a Canadian winter. Yet every year, some of us will be found frozen to death in stalled cars or lost in a winter blizzard, and many more will suffer the effects of frostbite and exposure.

Many of these cases are unnecessary, so here's a few reminders on preparing yourself again for winter.

The most important preparation of course is clothing, but for active outdoor sports you must look at more than simply warmth. Since the greatest danger lies in dampness, often created by sweating, make sure that your winter clothing is in layers, so that you can easily remove clothes as necessary to prevent getting steamed up while working. For warmth under all conditions, even when wet, nothing beats old-fashioned wool. And don't forget to cover your head, since so much of your body heat is radiated through its surface.

If you travel outside cities in winter, you should also prepare your car for a blizzard. If you become stranded, an emergency kit with matches, candles, warm clothing and sleeping bags, and a shovel could make the difference between life and death. If you travel frequently, a box of high-energy foods and a small stove are also essential, along with booster cables, a tow rope, and an axe or saw for firewood.

What should you do if you are stuck, and a friendly farmhouse is not close at hand? Most experts advise you to stay with your car.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Well by the looks of my cacti plants Christmas isn't too far away. I have three in bloom and if the old one doesn't soon show some signs of buds, I will either cut it back or take some slips off it.

Of course when one thinks about it Christmas is just about one month away.

Birthdays at Hyland Crest for the month of December are Winnifred Johnson, 2; Eleanor Walker, 15; Arthur Young, 19; Gordon Carr, 19; and Esther Rowbotham, 20. Cards are lovely to have anytime.

With all the good stores in town, I have not shopped anywhere else for a number of years. If one is not hunting for something, you can always find it at home. Unusual gifts are always enjoyed.

The joy of liver -- beef and pork liver are good buys as there is almost no waste. As liver is tender just cook it a short time on low heat, just until the pink colour has disappeared. Beef and pork liver usually has a stronger flavour than calf's liver, so for a milder flavour, soak the liver in milk and let marinate in the refrigerator for about two hours before cooking. Just one 50g serving of cooked liver gives one enough Vitamin A for five or six days and is also an excellent source of iron.

Mr. A.S. Cooper is spending this week in Florida.

Bradley Robinson of Scarborough spent the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson.

Winners at last week's mini card party were: cribbage, Ruth Kellett; euchre, Shirley Elcome, and lone hands - Irene Houghton.

Mrs. Minnie Ackerblade is now living in Lochlin.

There will be movies at the library this Friday, beginning at 2:00 pm for the adults and 7:15 pm for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herlihey and family of Mississauga visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Herlihey on the week-end.

On November 24 will be the book exchange at Minden library.

Myles Trumbull of Emily Park, and the Randy Baras of Wilberforce visited with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Trumbull on the week-end.

The United Church Women went to thank all who made the soup and sandwich luncheon such a success last week. The winners of the free albums donated by Sandra Beech were Alice Sedgwick, Mrs. Wickens and Ethel Harrison.

The St. Paul's chili luncheon and bazaar is this Friday, so do come out and enjoy yourself.

Minden Women's Institute held their regular meeting in the Common Room on Wednesday, November 17. The president opened the meeting. The roll call was answered by 18 members and one guest donating plants for auction after the meeting.

The convenor reported sending 15 cards since the last meeting. Correspondence was read, this included a donation from Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirkwood. After a discussion regarding mileage for drivers, the amount was set at 25 cents per mile.

Mrs. D. Berry reported on the leaders course, and said the first meeting would be held at 7:00 pm in the UC hall. Mrs. Cox read a list of articles needed by those taking the course.

Mrs. H. Stevens gave an interesting paper on egg producing, giving us some idea of why some farmers are so successful with poultry farming -- but we all had pity for the poor hens. All applauded the excellent paper.

Mrs. Cox thanked all the members who had helped with the Victoria East district craft day, also those who served tea at Hyland Crest.

The president who had been the delegate to the area convention gave a brief but interesting report. One item of interest was that of our district had a full quota of delegates. She concluded by reading some interesting mottoes.

The meeting adjourned, and Mrs. Moore acted as auctioneer for the sale of the plants. All had a good laugh.

The Christmas meeting will be held in the United Church Hall on December 15 at 2:00 pm.

Gooderham News

On Sunday, December 5, Gooderham Pentecostal Church will be host to Rev. Carl Verhulst, missionary to South Africa.

You are invited to come and hear an inspiring report of what God is doing in the life of this dedicated man. There will be one service only -- 11 am.

Grace Billings and Lenore Rose spent a day in Lindsay last week.

Funeral services were held in Our Lady of Fatima Church, Minden, for Mrs. Todzia who died November 11 in Ross Memorial Hospital. She was 85.

Her husband, Joseph, predeceased her several years ago. For some years she has been a resident in the Pinecrest Nursing Home, Bobcaygeon.

Many of her friends here will remember her and her husband when they lived in their summer home on Wolf Lake. In the winter seasons they moved to one of the Madill winterized cottages. She will be remembered with affection and respect.

Interment took place in Patterson, New Jersey.

Congratulations are extended to Evelyn and Hubert Alsop on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

They celebrated at the home of their daughter, Adeline, in Oshawa. The happy family gathering included their two children, Adeline and Lawrence with their spouses, Ross and Muriel, their grandchildren and three great-grandchildren -- as well as some friends.

May the loving memories of days gone by enrich the years that lie ahead.

Family members and friends gathered at the home of Walter MacDuff last Monday evening to help him celebrate his 77th birthday. We wish you continued health, Walter, to enjoy many more.

Grace Green, of Lindsay, spent a few days as guest of her niece, Elda Hunter. She visited her sister, Bertha McColl and Tommy.

Mary Maxwell and her son, Gerry, of Marmora, visited Vivian and Tommy Dovell last Thursday. They also called on Ruby Maxwell.

Susie Dovell and her sister, Nellie MacDuff spent a week visiting family members in Oshawa, Whitby, and Scarborough last week.

We are glad to see Judy MacDuff home after a stay in hospital. We're glad you're feeling better, Judy, and hope you'll soon feel at your best.

It is good to know that Joyce Izaryk, sister of Pearl Cary, is able to return to her home from hospital in Toronto. We hope your progress continues until you are fully restored to good health, Joyce!

Wilberforce News

The continuing fall weather has enabled, even the most tardy, to catch up on those pre-winter tasks. The mild spell has also been a boon to the men working on the four bungalows that, through the direction of the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, are being built on Highway 648 across the highway from the Bostonia Motel. Two basements are almost completed and work has begun on the other two.

Continual drizzle presents a gloomy outlook but most folks have no complaints when they consider the alternative, snow, that calls for the application of the shovel. The rain fell to douse the enthusiasm of the crowds attending the arena. Neither did it prevent a fair audience gathering at the Memorial Centre on Saturday afternoon to enjoy the performance of Dennis O'Toole. He entertained with his guitar and with his singing. His casual, friendly manner won the attention of his young fans and he soon had them singing along and clapping time to accompany the old familiar songs.

For those who enjoy romance and easy reading you will be pleased with a book to be found at the library and entitled Kilcarraig. This was written by Annable Carothers and is a novel about Scotland.

It carries the reader along from the early part of the century to the present day and introduces the problems that arise with each succeeding generation. Another book that is interesting is "The Passing Bells" by Phillip Rock.

This story also begins at an early period in this century with the events taking place in England. The story outlines the changes that took place in the lives of several families with the advent of the first world war. It focuses on the brutality of war and the needless waste of young lives. This story will grip your attention and hold it until the last page.

I wish there could be a more positive report of the dance held this past Saturday at the Watson Centre. With a d.j. providing the music, and our local figure skating club the sponsors, one might have thought the place would have been a little more crowded.

The folks working to keep the costs down for all our local young skaters appreciate those who did turn out. Hopefully their next venture will receive more support; we have excellent facilities and the desire of the kids to learn and partake in wholesome, healthy recreation -- let's help ensure they can continue to take advantage of the situation.

Guilford Potpourri

Hi everybody, this is your local news reporter with all the news that I have gathered up this past week.

Our sincere sympathy goes out to Mrs. Bonnie Holliwel on the death of her father Ross Mitchell of Norwood. The funeral was held on November 20.

A large gathering turned out for Rendall Larde's birthday party Saturday.

Present were Gordon and Verna Priest, Bert and Luella Bryant, Bradley and Sheila Bryant, Roger and Doris Bryant, Richard and Sheila Sanders, Sylvia, Karen and Donnie Cook, Lee-Ann Barker, Kenny Kreller and Jack and Janice Shaw and their children. Rendall, who lives near Minden, turned 39 on November 16.

The girl's baseball team had a lovely roast beef dinner at the West Guilford Recreational Centre on Saturday evening with about fifty people sitting down to eat.

Later, all enjoyed dancing with a lot of other people who came to the regular monthly dance. The music was supplied by the Log Cabin Boys from Oshawa.

A baby shower was held at the home of Eileen Barry in honour of Cindy Barry, who is expecting her baby shortly. She got a lot of very beautiful gifts, including a baby car seat. There was a lovely lunch and a beautiful cake baked by Eileen and decorated for the occasion by Nellie Thompson.

The fifth annual St. Andrew's Day Concert will be held on November 26 at St. Andrew's Church in West Guilford at 7:30 pm, featuring the music of bagpipes, Scottish folk dancing and highland dancing. Donations at the door goes to the church building fund.

If anyone in the area is interested in learning to do these Scottish dances, they would be more than welcome to join a group of people at the Royal Canadian Legion on the second and fourth Monday of every month after band practice. For more information about joining, please call 457-1862.

I have the pleasure of having my sister Charlene spending a week's holiday with me.

If anyone has any news that they would like printed in the Potpourri column please call me at 754-3005 or write it out and drop it in the Silver Valley Store or the house behind the store.

Norland Natter

Hi, how are you?

Mike and Linda Easton -- former residents of Norland and former owners of Norland's Red and White (now Clover Farms) -- recently returned from Hawaii, where they vacationed for a week.

The trip was sponsored by the National Grocers Association and the way they won it is rather interesting.

As you know Mr. Easton owns two stores (Minden and Haliburton). Depending on how much produce you buy you can save up points towards trips.

Each store can win up to four trips. Mr. Easton won eight trips in all. Instead of taking them all he took, himself, his wife, his parents and the managers from each of the stores and their wives.

They stayed at the Wakiki Sheraton on Wakiki Beach. Scuba diving was among their many activities.

Recently, Mike Morton, Sherry Jewell, and myself represented our public school at Lindsay's cable 10 "Quiz Kids." Unfortunately we lost a very close match to Dunsford. The score was 25-23.

Here is a shortbread recipe donated by Eva Brodie. 1 lb butter, 1/4 cups icing sugar, 4 cups flour, 1/2 tsp. salt. Mix all ingredients and cut your own design. Bake at 325 degrees (fahrenheit) for ten minutes, let cool, and store away for Christmas.

Last (Thursday) November 18 an eighth great-grandchild for Frances Gunn was born. The daughter of Gary and Myrna Epps is not yet named.

Rick Thompson at Eric Thompson Marina now has the dealership for Homelite Chain Saws. In the past, owners of such chain saws had to go elsewhere for repairs; or if they were interested in a new saw. They currently have a "special" on so drop in and see what is available.

Claire Fielder was one of six retiring school trustees honored at the board meeting on November 10.

Each was presented with pins by Chairman Margaret Carew. Other retiring trustees were Edna Carew, George Thompson, Cicely Cawker, Gerald Hall and Marjorie Porter. Claire Fielder took his job very seriously and was a worthy representative for our area.

Mrs. Leo Liscombe (Ruth) has been ill in Ross Memorial Hospital for the last couple of weeks. Hope you are soon well enough to be home, Ruth.

Mrs. Ruth Fralick returned home from Ross Memorial Hospital on Friday after a three-week stay.

Representatives from Fenelon Falls 4-H club showing their 4-H steer in the Queen's Guineas Competition at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto Friday, November 19 were Irwin Potter and Brant Jones. We wish them the best in the competition!

Winners in the seniors' ren Warburton. In the second Bancroft tied the score at 7:11 when Haliburton was unable to clear the puck out of their own end.

But at 5:02 Haliburton was to go into the lead to stay on a goal from Emmerson, assisted by his two defencemen Darren Byers and Roland card games held in the Community Hall on Tuesday were as follows:

Euchre - ladies first, Barbara Kenneth, 71; ladies second, Lulu Brentnell; most lone hands, Lulu Brentnell; consolation, Vina Neal; men's first, Chas. Walker, 70; men's second, Tony Kenneth, 65; consolation, Ethel Farrow.

Bridge - first, Lloyd Watson, 5330; second, Dick Taylor, 5110; and consolation, Jean Shields and Bill Grumwell tied with a score of 1500.

Sorry I do not have all the scores, but some of the scores are not always marked in.

Were you one of the lucky ones to get to the Royal Winter Fair? It was lovely weather and several from the area did get to go and reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Garth Yeo have moved from North Bay Drive to the house vacated by the Stan Payne family at the corner of Highways 35 and 48.

Mrs. Don Hill, wife of Rev Donald Hill of Ridgetown, and son, Don Junior, were overnight visitors of Mrs. Annie Marles last week. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Jewell of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magee of Sault Ste. Marie were visitors of Charlie Routley and other relatives in the area last week.

Dates to remember - Wednesday, November 24 at 8:00 pm, at the Kinmount Legion Hall, the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a bake bingo with admission of $1.

St. James ACW will be holding their annual Christmas Bazaar and Tea at the St. James Anglican Church Hall in Kinmount, on Saturday, November 27 from 10:30 to 3:00 pm.

There will be a bake table, white elephant table and a gift and book table. Lots of good items in time for Christmas giving and at old-time prices. Then, of course the luncheon, which consists of plates full of tasty sandwiches, all kinds of goodies, beverage and delicious home made soup. All this plus the happy feeling of being around friendly people and all for $1.50. Can't beat that can you? See you there!

St. Patrick's CWL will host a turkey bingo Tuesday, December 7 at 8:00 pm, also in the Kinmount Legion Hall. Come and try for your Christmas turkey.

Kinmount Korner

Results of the Galway euchre party held Wednesday, November 17 are as follows: men's high, Harry Stuart; men's low, Len Taylor; ladies' high, Ida Young; ladies' low, Joyce Thomas, and most lone hands, Bob Allen.

A big welcome home to Bill and Win Wilson who spent a few days last week in Windsor.

Marion Scott and Barb Fountain were in Orillia for a few days Christmas shopping and visiting friends.

Bill Moss Jr spent last week-end in Toronto while Jason spent his at our house.

I also enjoyed the company of Mary O'Toole, Jean Hollobon, Janet Abela, Elaine Field, Bertha Stata and Joyce Hills last Wednesday. Sorry to have missed seeing you, Cori Pierson, last Friday evening. Hope to be home next time you call.

Reg McCluney underwent back surgery Friday, November 19 and we certainly hope Reg will be well and outside again, very soon. Joan and Jessica Bowman are two of the many who seem to be suffering the miserable cold that's going around. Alex Graham has been ill of late (are ye nae weel Agl!). And of course, our continuing good wishes and prayers for Mr. Haas, Verlie Young, Shirley Stephenson and Bill Campbell.

Why not send a note of cheer or make a phone call to some of our shut-ins? It would make a brighter spot in their day. I'm sure.

A very happy birthday to Helen Graham, (November 23) and to Ida Parry (December 3). To our son, Bill, happy birthday, December 7 (Pearl Harbour Day).

I hope Bob Hollobon is better from his hold by now and also Bob's mother-in-law who was visiting with him and his wife Jean when she suffered a shaking up after a nasty fall.

Visitors at the "J.J. Ranch," RR1 Kinmount, over last week-end were Wendy and Bill Cahill and their daughter Lindsay, Bev and Pat Molloy, grandma and Uncle Don Hills, all of Toronto/Scarborough area. I'm told the girls were holding a "bakeathon" while the boys were eating cookies etc, and getting fat. It's that "etc" you have to watch!

We sure enjoyed some nice weather this past week and even though it rained on Saturday you still don't have to shovel it.

Chocolate Snowballs: melt together in saucepan over low heat: 1 1/4 cups semi-sweet chocolate, 2 tbsp. butter, 1/4 tsp. vanilla, 1/8 tsp. salt. In another saucepan heat together until smooth: 8 oz cream cheese, 5 tbsp. milk, 5 tbsp. sugar. Remove from heat and stir cheese mixture into chocolate mixture.

Then stir in two cups of miniature marshmallows. Form into small balls and roll in flaked coconut. Chill until firm. These are nice to add to your Xmas goodies.

Stay well and happy and be here next week. I can be reached at 488-2353.

Peewees hammer Bancroft 5-1 Saturday

The house league Peewees Number Two team travelled to Bancroft on Saturday, November 20 where they came up against a tough contender. There was no scoring until there were only 26 seconds left in the first period. Then, Scott McKee scored a picture goal assisted by Jeff Emmerson and Darren Warburton.

In the second Bancroft tied the score at 7:11 when Haliburton was unable to clear the puck out of their own end.

But at 5:02 Haliburton was to go into the lead to stay on a goal from Emmerson, assisted by his two defencemen Darren Byers and Roland Greber, and again at 2:25 while playing two men short Ben Packard was to slip between their defence and score assisted by Jeff Smith. The period ended 3-1.

The third was a real close checking one, and there was no scoring until there was only 53 seconds left in the game. Warburton tapped one in on a perfect corner pass from Emmerson, and Charlie Franklin was to round out the scoring with 16 seconds left assisted by Packard and Troy Austen.

The final score was 5-1 for Haliburton.

Their next game is at home November 27 at 2:30 against Apsley.

Lindsay Presbyterial UCW meet held

The executive members of Lindsay Presbyterial UCW held their meeting at Fenelon Falls United Church November 8. President Thea Brandsma welcomed everyone.

Doreen McAlpine led in the morning worship service on the subject of "talents." In her message she said "we do not all have the same talents but we all have some talent, and it is a trust we should take seriously. If we take our gift and wrap it in a napkin it will do no good."

Leola English gave the fair booth report. She reported that there had been 28 lay volunteers besides the ministers, and that she had favorable comments regarding the booth.

Thea Brandsma reported on the conference UCW executive meeting she had attended. Lindsay Presbyterial has been asked to have a member at large on conference UCW executive, as well as stewardship assistant. Conference UCW annual meeting will be at Trinity United Church in Cobourg in April.

An added feature will be a prayer breakfast with Hugh McCullum as speaker, and 25 tickets have been allotted to Lindsay Presbyterial. The 1983 mid-week event for women will be in Lindsay Presbyterial with Fenelon Falls being the possible location. Bob-Anne Dixon will bring Lesotho bags to sell at the Presbyterial annual meeting. This is a project to help women in Lesotho.

Various executive officers present gave their reports. Literature secretary Nora Bagshaw reported record sales of books this year. Doreen McAlpine, social issues secretary, reminded members to deal with local issues as well as nuclear disarmament. The film "If you love this planet" is available through local libraries.

Ellen Grills, supply secretary, stated that the Fred Victor Mission needed warm winter clothing for men. Other officers reporting were Pat Parker, world outreach secretary, Neta MacArthur for ADA Task Force, and Wilma Tamblin, press secretary.

Margaret Gilson, Bay of Quinte Conference UCW president, showed slides of the 1982 General Council of United Church at Montreal which she had attended. She spoke of some of the highlights of general council, and told of her time spent with a French family.

Hyland Crest award

accident prevention program can only be achieved with the cooperation of all staff members, and it's up to each individual to ensure his own safety and the safety of those around him."

"The staff of Hyland Crest Home for the Aged have demonstrated great responsibility, both individually and collectively, in earning this award," added Fearrey.

Nesbitt's horses champs

The "home grown" horses of Sinc Nesbitt showed their championship colors once again at the Royal Ontario Winter Fair.

Nesbitt's Lady Jennifer was the grand champion and the senior champion, while Nesbitt's Misty River Lynne was reserve senior champion and reserve grand champion.

Both horses placed first in their classes, and were undefeated in 1982 in "team of registered mares."

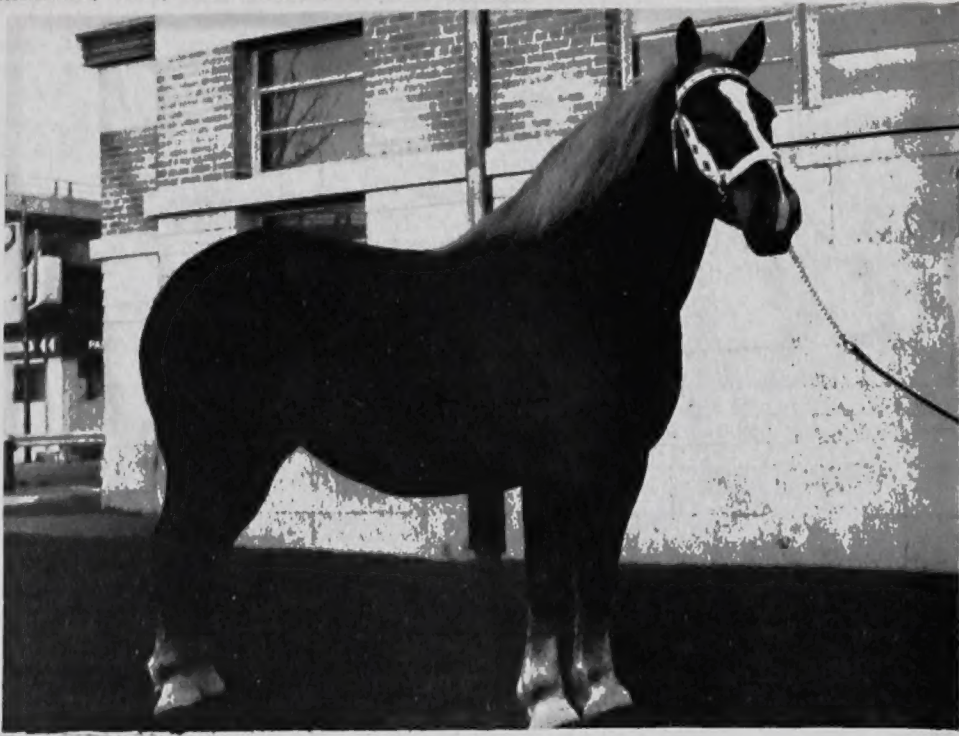

Other winnings at the Royal were:

- brood mare, second place, Nesbitt's Misty River Margaret
- light draught team, third place
- progeny, first place (two animals from same mare)
- set of sire, second place (three animals from same stallion)

The Nesbitts would like to give their thanks to all the people who have helped with the horses in 1982 -- in particular Verne and Marlin Gartshore, John and Sue Stephens, Hartley and Janet Newell, Eddie Freitag and Dave Sisson.

The "home grown" horses date back to their great-grandmother, Conqueror's Silver Lady. She is 23 years old, and in foal again!

In 1967 she was grand champion Belgian mare and her filly foal was reserve grand champion.

Snowdon council meeting held

The regular meeting of Snowdon Township council was held on November 10 at 7:00 pm.

In attendance were Reeve Robert Vick, deputy-reeve John Francis, and councillors B. Neville, F. Simmons and D. Wruth.

Municipal staff in attendance were road superintendent D. McElwain, and clerk-treasurer G. Wynne. Others present included R. Burk, J. Hills, E. Roylance and L. Vick.

Motions

- Moved by J. Francis, seconded by B. Neville that the minutes of the October 13 meeting be adopted as read.

The Clerk reported that the Ministry of Natural Resources advised that the municipality had been allocated one position and $2,830 in salary and support funds under the Winter Experience Employment Program. The program's intent is to hire young people who have left school, been unemployed for at least 12 weeks and who are experiencing severe employment difficulties.

In respect to the federal rural and native housing program, the clerk reported that it was anticipated that advertisements would appear in the local papers within the next two weeks.

Councillor Bryan Neville represented the municipality at the unveiling of the County Memorial Cairn at the Minden cultural centre on November 14.

The road superintendent was requested to contact B and J Enterprises to ensure that the minor outstanding items on the remedial work undertaken on the Francis Bridge were completed as soon as possible.

- Moved by B. Neville, seconded D. Wruth that the Ministry of Transportation and Communications be petitioned for interim payment under The Public Transportation and Highway Im-

Frauds, theft and attempted murder

The Minden detachment of the OPP investigated five motor vehicle accidents (no persons were injured) and 33 general occurrences (including fire break and entries and five thefts) during the period from November 15 to 21.

Thefts

During the past week an ATC (all terrain cycle), valued at $1,200, was stolen from McKnight's Shell, highway 35 at Minden.

The 1982 Honda had been padlocked to a chain and was stolen overnight November 18.

Sometime between last August and now persons unknown broke into the Orillia Red Coat Hunt Camp in Snowdon township and stole an antique gramophone and 40 to 50 old records.

Also during the past week someone broke through a window at Shamrock Shell in Haliburton and removed $600 from the cash box.

Gooderham Fraud Charges

The owner/operator of Monmouth Insurance Agency Ltd. in Gooderham has been charged with three counts of fraud and three counts of theft. The charges arise from allegations that insurance premiums paid by clients, in the amount of $22,706, were not passed on to the insurance companies. Charged is Edward Lewis Hunter, 32, of Gooderham.

In occurrences like this, where individuals pay an agent, whether or not the payment is forwarded to the insurance companies the clients are considered insured by the insurance agency involved.

The occurrence is under investigation by PC Al Bibby.

Attempt Murder Trial

Leonard Harold Stamp, 33, of Guilford township, has been found guilty of attempted murder and use of a firearm while committing an indictable offence. The Supreme Court case was held before a judge and jury in Lindsay and lasted from November 2 to November 9. Stamp will be sentenced on November 29.

The trial revealed that on November 4, Stamp had entered a residence on the Harburn road in Dysart township and had opened fire with a 12 gauge shotgun. The shot struck Mervyn Morris Roberts, 52, of West Hill, Ontario, and severely injured his right hand as well as striking his chest. The wounding was a result of personal feelings between the two men.

The investigation was conducted by PC Mike Legge assisted by personnel from Number 8 District Headquarters in Peterborough.

Mortgage Fraud

William Byron Cooper, 47, of Toronto, was sentenced in Lindsay court this month to seven months in jail and ordered to make restitution in the amount of $17,350.

Cooper had pled not-guilty to fraud charges arising from a 1977 mortgage transaction on an Eagle Lake cottage.

The trial revealed that Cooper, who had built the cottage in 1975, sold it at an inflated price two years later to a fictitious buyer. It was made to look as if the new buyer would assume the original mortgage of $24,000 and would pay the amount of the second mortgage of $22,500 to Cooper.

Cooper then sold the second mortgage and received the cash.

Suspensions were aroused as to the existence of the buyer when no payments were made on either mortgage.

The matter was investigated by PC Al Bibby of Minden detachment and Detective Sergeant Don Wheeler of the OPP Anti-Rackets Branch in Toronto.

32. IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear father, Arthur McCall, who was killed November 17, 1917. Although I was only 5 years, I remember when they brought him home. He was a trapper who had an accident. It wasn't his fault. But your family missed you so much. You will never know how much. Loved and remembered by the family, Miri, Christie, Margeret, Alfred, Tommy. 32-B-24
